"Just for Fun"

By RAS BERRY

Got a picture post card from Razz with a 2-cent stamp on it and a picture of the tabernacle at Salt Lake City. Razz says he's convinced now that one wife is enough.

Also got a government postal from Sam Levy, who is on the same train with Razz, only Sam was wise enough to get the kind of a postcard you can send for 1 cent. This will give you an idea of what a hard time the Bus. Mgr. has to pay off the mortgage on the print shop, with a spendthrift editor throwing away the profits. He oughta profit by being around with Sam, though.

Well, Hurum is on time this week, so I won't take up any more space. The rest is by Hurum.

Fay Parks wanted a ditch dug, an a job hunter wanted to do it, so Fay says, alright start in the morning, and I'll pay you what you're worth, and the hunter says, No siree, I see gettin more'n that now, and then Parks the Plumber pipes up and sez, "sewer" you're right, No connection here, and the jobless slinked away.

You know findin a job aint so hard—the hard part comes in findin one that suits yuh.

Leave it to Ben Rappaport for Wise Talk. Ben says, Some folks have the itch for buying things they want instead of things they need—that's why they always have to scratch.

Of course if everybody was sure he was right before he went ahead, who would go ahead?

Doc Neelands the dentist has been pullin' out for the past ten years, and now pretty soon he'll pull out for vacation, so he sez, and I don't care if he does, cause if he don't I might be pulled in, filled up, and pushed out.

You know Art Finster runs a drug store, and what I can't understand is what makes him so dry, for when I was talking to him about a fellow who died and asked, Did he leave his wife much, and Art right away sez, "Nearly every night." Course I mustn't say anything against Art, cause Art thinks he can beat me bowlin and I know he can't and that's why I like to bowl when Art's around.

A long slim guy from Oklahoma was in at Charlie Tansey's Barber Shop, and Charlie says, Want a hair cut, an the long slim guy sez, Gosh no, cut them all!

Down at Rappaport's, while Sam's away, there's a bozo by the name of Bine, so I guess while Sam's away Bine's doin the buyin, and I just betcha when it comes to buyin ladies shoes and stockings, Bine's buyin's the stuff.

The conversation was mostly about camping and Wallace Post says, "You know paper is mighty good to keep a fellow warm," and right then the prosperous Torrance merchant says, "Yes, I remember a 30 day note once kept me in a sweat box for a month."

I don't know why but when anyone speaks of out camping, it makes me think of a fellow who was in a hurry to get rid of his home brew and dumped it into the gold fish bowl. And when he come back after a while, the fish had eaten their way out of the bowl, had killed the cat, overturned the cook stove and had the bull dog down on his back.

Has any of my dear readers got a better one than this? Well, good bye. I'll see you next week. HURUM.

Rufus was a little ashamed, I guess, cuz he has brought in some stuff this week—all neatly typewritten, too. Here it is:

Ramblings of Rufus
Rufus says that Hurum sez to him: Let's help King out when he goes away by helping to write the Razz column and Rufus sed he'd help, but he didn't promise to write anything. He sed his plan was to let Hurum write the "stuff," Grover censor it and then he would OKEY it, but Hurum sez that aint fair. So Rufus said he would tell about what he herd when he visited the Elementary School last week. Here it is:

Teacher in Natural History: "What animal makes the nearest approach to man?"
Little boy with curly hair: "The flea," he ventured timidly.

Teacher: "Make a sentence with the words multiply and add in it."
Bright pupil: "The rabbit multiplies very rapidly, but it takes a snake to be an adder."

Teacher: "Now children let us see what you remember about the animal kingdom and the domestic animals that belong to it. You have named all of the domestic animals but one. Now who can tell me what that one is?"
There was no reply.
Teacher: "What! Does no one know? It has bristly hair, is fond of the dirt and likes to play in the mud."
Little Allan raising his hand timidly.

Teacher: "All right Allan." Allan: "Please ma'am, I think it's me."

Teacher: "Can any boy or girl tell me what an oyster is?" Jimmy Jiggs, triumphantly: "I know! I know! An oyster is a fish built like a nut."

Teacher: "What animal is satisfied with the least amount of nourishment?"
Bright boy: "The moth; it eats nothing but holes."

Rufus said after he left the school house he saw a little boy sitting on the curb crying and another little boy ask him what he was crying so had 'cause my said: "Oh, I feel so bad 'cause my nice old cillie Major's dead." Second boy: "Shucks! my grandmother's been dead a week, and you don't catch me crying." First boy: "Yes, but you didn't raise your grandmother from a pup."

Just afore Rufus reached home on the same day he met one of his neighbors and suggested to his neighbor that they take their lunches and families and go to the zoo on the following Sunday, and this neighbor says: "No, thank you; I'll stay at home. My eldest daughter does the kangaroo walk, my second daughter talks like a varrot, my son laughs like a hyena, my wife watches me like a hawk, my cook is as cross as a bear, and my mother-in-law says I'm a gorilla. When I go anywhere I want a change." (See Hurum-Rufus Joke Book, page 333.)

The city recorder collected $602 on criminal cases last month and $34.25 on civil cases.

The next meeting of the Board of Trustees will be held on Monday, June 29, instead of Tuesday, June 30, on account of July 4th. The meeting will be called at 8 p. m.

Sewer connections have been made for each lot on the alleys recently improved, to avoid tearing up the pavement when property owners build on the lots. For this reason, the Board of Trustees explained at their meeting this week, each lot has been assessed $3.25 to cover the cost of this connection from the sewer line to the curb line. This amount will be refunded from the regular charge for making sewer connections whenever property owners build.

Permission to keep a truck standing in front of the Pacific Electric station for the purpose of doing a transfer business was given E. Young at this week's meeting of the Board of Trustees. Mr. Young is to pay the regular business license, but the ordinance provides that such licenses cannot be granted except by vote of the board.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Bradbury and family, guests for several days at the home of the former's brother, S. H. Bradbury, have returned to their home in Evanston, Wyo.

Mrs. W. W. Woodington left Tuesday night for a six-weeks visit with relatives in Manitoba, Canada. During Mrs. Woodington's absence Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Woodington of Long Beach will be guests at the Woodington home on Arlington Avenue.

PRESCRIPTIONS filled with care — and promptly

When a doctor gives you a prescription he expects certain drugs to produce certain results. That prescription must be filled just as the doctor ordered, and it will be if you bring it to our drug store.

We are here to give you every service you want in drugs and medicines, surgical supplies and everything you need in drug store things—and our prices are fair and square.
